Youngsters Start Early To Celebrate

With a warm sun overhead and weather conditions perfect, Boston begins early to celebrate Independence Day... and little Mary Ann O'Brien and Bobby Manning visit Savin Hill Beach . . . and she, believing that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure, gets a suntan oil coating. Both are from Dorchester.

Baltic Nazis in Rout

By EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW, July 3 (AP)—The wall erected by the Nazis in front of the Baltic republics and Poland began to feel the pressure of the advancing Red Army today as German forces reeled backward in White Russia in a retreat which Russian field dispatches described as a wholesale rout.

RUSSIA—Smashing ahead in all sectors, Red forces have by-passed the key city of Minsk, taking Krasnoe to the north, and Gorodea and Stolpce to the south, thus cutting Nazi rail lines to the city. In the frontal assault on Minsk, Soviet troops have taken Sloboda. Black area represents one day gains by Reds.

Danes Continue General Strike

STOCKHOLM, July 3 (AP)—Danish patriots continued their general strike in Copenhagen this morning despite an appeal by the German-controlled Danish radio for a return to work, the Free Danish press service said today.

Reports received by the news agency through the underground said Germans had closed on a Danish student house near the University of Copenhagen and arrested several score students.

The Danish Liberty Council was said to be spreading word to the patriots to continue the strike until the Danish Nazi "Schalburg Corps" is removed from the country. German orders lifting a state of siege in Copenhagen and restoring utilities was said to have had no effect on the situation.

Reports reaching Stockholm said the strike had spread to 20 Danish towns, including Aarhus on Jutland, and Kalundborg in western Sjaelland.

British General Killed in Burma

COLOMBO, Ceylon, July 3 (AP)—Brig. Gen. R. N. F. Marks of the 3rd Gurkha Rifles is "missing and presumed lost" in an airplane crash in the Magaung valley area in northern Burma, it was announced today.

In almost every sector, the Russians said, German commanders appeared unable to break the onrushing tide of Soviet tanks, cavalry and infantry advancing relentlessly under an air cover that grows daily in strength. By no stretch of the imagination, one Soviet correspondent said, can the collapse of German resistance be called a "planned retreat" or even a systematic withdrawal.

Although the Red army has bypassed Minsk and cut it off from all direct aid or escape except by air and one small dirt road leading westward to Grodno, unusually heavy fighting was reported in the broad half-moon of steel the Russians have thrown about the city.

Pravda said all German counterattacks in this area had proved futile, and Nazis were dying by the thousands.

100 MILES FROM PRUSSIA

Soviet tanks and cavalry struck within 10 miles of Minsk, and another column carving deep beyond that city hammered within 65 milth as Wilno, which is only 100 miles from East Prussia.

Pounding at the front gates of Minsk, Red army men earlier captured Sloboda, 12½ miles to the northeast.

By-passing columns swept around the city on the northwest and southwest, cutting the Germans' escape railways to Wilno and to Brest-Litovsk.

Wilno is 15 miles from the old Lithuanian border. The drive on Wilno captured Wilejka, 65 miles east of Wilno and 46 miles northwest of Minsk.

Immediately east of Minsk, Gen. Chernaiknovsk's Third army cavalry and tanks were waging a savage battle down the Warsaw-Moscow highway—Napoleon's old road of disaster—and last reports had Russian tanks pressing on 20 miles from the city in this quarter.

To the northeast cavalry and tanks drove to within 10 miles of Minsk from the area south of captured Sloboda.

NAZI ARMIES COLLAPSE

Across the border in old Poland one Red army column took Krasnoe, 30 miles northwest of Minsk, cutting the railway from Minsk northwest to Wilno. Another severed the rail line running to Brest-Litovsk at Stolpce, Poland, 45

ITALY—American troops driving toward Livorno take Cecina and Riparbella . . . while French forces pushed into Siena, on the road to Florence.

Allies March Into Siena

By NOLAND NORGAARD

ROME, July 3 (AP)—French troops and American artillery and tank forces occupied the medieval metropolis of Siena, 31 miles below Florence, today after more than a week of heavy fighting.

The occupation touched off a wild demonstration by the population of 50,000 which paraded its famous silk flags for the first time in four years in a belated impromptu celebration of the ancient "Palio Delle Contrade."

The city, whose art treasures are rivalled only by those of Florence1 was virtually untouched by war damage except for a few small bombs dropped in the last several nights and demolitions of public utilities carried out by the Germans.

Dispatches said three bombs landed 30 yards from the beautiful black and white marble cathedral, tearing up paving blocks.

Fall of the city coincided with advance by the Eighth Army west of Lake Trasimeno and gains up the Adriatic coast which brought the fall Osimo, nine miles from Ancona.

A few hours earlier Americans on the west coast crushed German resistance at Cecina, after vicious fighting.

"Exceptionally heavy street fighting caused us, and the enemy, considerable casualties," an Allied spokesman said.

"The enemy mined and booby trapped Cecina and resisted from house to house."

German prisoners reported they had been ordered to hold Cecina at all costs, but the Americans forged ahead on a wide front.

New Drive On in France

By WES GALLAGHER

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, July 3 (AP)—American doughboys turning from the mop-up of Cherbourg burst southward on the peninsula in a dawn attack today after a heavy artillery barrage, fighting on mud-bogged French battlefields reminiscent of World War I.

The assault jumped off near the west coast of the peninsula, from the line flung across it just two weeks ago that sealed off the upper half of the land neck.

A front dispatch said the drive pushed from the area below Barneville-Sur-Mer on the coast east to St. Sauveur le Vicomte. The doughboy line dips below and between these towns to St. Lo O'Ourville.

The assault opened after advances which headquarters said had won favorable "jump-off" positions south of St. Lo D'Ourville. The doughboys also had pressed toward La Haye de Puits, six miles southeast of St. Lo D'Ourville.

The American infantrymen were supported by heavy artillery including some of the most powerful guns yet used in the French campaign, but rain and cloudy skies hampered aerial aid.

Even as this assault thrust forward on the Allied right flank, other Americans maintained pressure against the big road town of St. Lo toward the center of the Normandy front, and the British held firm southwest of Caen on the eastern flank.

There were indications Field Marshal Rommel was regrouping his forces there—numbering 11 divisions—after being beaten back in 25 thrusts against the British wedge across the Odon river.

The new offensive came after Lt.-Gen. Bradley, commanding the American First Army in Normandy, hailed the Cherbourg victory as "an indication to the enemy as to what he can expect from now on to the end."

German salients thrusting into American lines near St. Lo were wiped out, and the Americans advanced short distances toward La Have Du Puits, seizing high ground described by supreme headquarters as probably good jump-off spots for an eventual attack toward the south.

West of Caumont, Bradley lashed out on similar local attacks with the same object in mind. This sector is roughly 17 air miles southwest of the British Odon river bridgehead.

Activity dwindled in the Caen sector, where Field Marshal Rommel appeared to be regrouping his seven panzer and four infantry divisions which had taken a terrific mauling in three days of furious but futile attacks

MacArthur Blasts New Island

By Associated Press

Gen MacArthur's sector of the Pacific War stirred to new life and significance today with a three-ply blow against Noemfoor Island, possibly indicative of a new Allied jump toward the Philippines.

While the still-undecided battles for Saipan and Hengyang mounted in bitterness, the 15-by-12-mile island lying in New Guinea's Geelink Bay caught two week-end bombings and a PT boat shelling.

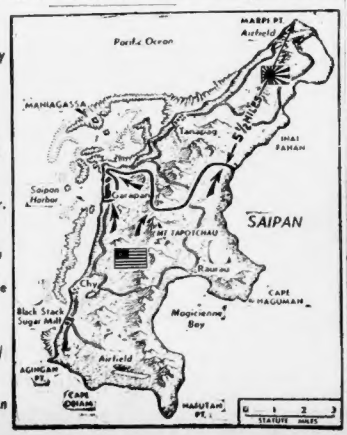
MacArthur's headquarters reported the second raid brought 150 aircraft with a 230-ton bomb load over Noemfoor's three airdromes Saturday. The unusual weight of the attack suggested MacArthur could be preparing to leap 50 miles from Biak Island to Noemfoor.

Or he could be clearing the way for a jump farther west to New Guinea's northwest tip. Noemfoor is 800 miles from the Philippines, 600 from Palau.

Elements of two Marine and one infantry division narrowed to approximately 25 square miles the pocket into which Japanese on Saipan are being pushed. The Americans advanced from 500 yards to a mile along the front.

On the east coast they were five and a half miles from the island's northern tip, which may become a Japanese Bataan. The bitter fighting in the forests and cave-pocked mountains already has cost the Japanese at least 6015 killed and much cached war material.

AMERICAN FORCES on Saipan today had the Marianas' capital of Garapan surrounded on three sides and held heights overlooking Tanapag harbor. Other Yanks are fighting down the north slopes of Mt. Tapotchau while on the east coast Americans have advanced within 5½ miles of the island's northern tip.



The town of Garapan, scene of hard street fighting, came under heavy fire from artillery, naval guns and mortars. One correspondent pictured it as a mass of flame.

The Americans apparently were ready to wipe it off the map to get at the Japanese, who had made it a fortress.

Hengyang, afire under the bombings of two enemy airforces, remained partially in Chinese hands. The key Hunan railroad city, vitaly to Japan's drive to cleave China along the Hankow-Canton rail line, virtually was cut off from aid, Chungking reports indicated.

A Japanese force apparently swept around the city to Leiyang, 34 airline miles southeast, while other forces farther south worked up from Canton in multiple drives. The objective was complete control of the railroad from Canton 1000 miles north to Peiping. Firmly held, that line would seal off eastern China from Allied use.

INVASION SHOW Tops Holiday List

Crack units of the armed forces and the mightiest of modern implements of war were readied today for the INVASION BOND SHOW — the greatest military spectacle ever staged in Boston—which is to be given tomorrow afternoon in the Charles River Basin.

An awesome demonstration of how invasion forces really operate will be shown to thousands of spectators as part of the Fifth War Loan drive. Co-operating will be the Treasury Department, the War Department and the Boston Retail Trade Board.

Staged as a part of the Fourth of July celebration, the big show will go on no matter what the weather. Originally, it had been decided to postpone the show in case of rain but at a conference of the committee it was pointed out that warfare continues, rain or shine.

Policing of the huge throngs on both sides of the river will be carried out by more than 1000 Massachusetts State Guards of the 26th Infantry, under command of Col. Vincent C. Breen, D. S. C. His executive officers are Lt. Col. John J. Riley and Lt. Col. William B. Taylor.

STARTS AT 2 P. M.

The show will begin promptly at 2 p. m., and a special booth has been erected at the Dartmouth st. entrance to the Esplanade, where persons can obtain tickets of admission by making formal application for war bonds and depositing checks to cover the cost. Tickets also may be obtained at this booth by persons who buy war bonds today from local banks and produce receipts of purchase. Servicemen and women will not need tickets to gain admittance.

Late reports indicated that a throng of approximately 200,000 spectators would jam the reservation to witness the use of weapons and methods of modern warfare never before exhibited to civilians.

Staged within sight of the State House dome and Bunker Hill Monument, the colorful maneuvers will be more than an entertainment pageant; it will be a stirring expression of community loyalty and devotion to flag and country on the part of Boston's retail merchants and the general public, as well as an appropriate wartime celebration of Independence Day.

POOLED FACILITIES

Secretary of War Stimson displayed a personal interest by issuing orders to expedite shipments of equipment needed to lend magnitude to the demonstration, the greatest ever attempted anywhere in the nation. All department and specialty stores of the Retail Trade Board have pooled their facilities and services into a single unit to insure its success.

The thrill-packed spectacle is expected to last three hours, with a unit of Coast Guard "invaders" leading the grand opening. Then will follow in succession exhibitions of swimming in burning oil by picked units, lifeboat race and capsize drill, abandon ship drill, plane rescues, Army air show, Navy PT boats in action, "Ducks,"

Another Theory In Girl Murder

Police investigating the murder of 10-year-old Frances McGrath, whose body was found in a Norwell pine grove June 16, today were exploring the theory she was slain in an automobile then carried to the spot where she was found.

Authorities had not abandoned the possibility she was killed in a cottage where she might have been held prisoner, but they professed the belief she had not been murdered on the scene.

Moreover, it was emphasized, the nature of her death—by smothering, according to autopsy reports—suggested her abductors could have done away with her easily in an automobile.

CHIEF HAS NEW LINE

A suspect questioned for hours at Norwell barracks of State Police was released today, apparently having established an air-tight alibi as to his whereabouts on the night of June 10, when the child disappeared from Scituate, summer home of her Dorchester family.

Chief Michael Stewart of Scituate said he had a definite line of investigation to make today but declined to disclose its nature.

Activity at Norwell state police barracks indicated another suspect might be brought in later in the day. State detectives and troopers were secretive about their movements but it was apparent their investigation had not lagged.

DENIES KILLER KNOWN

Meanwhile, Dist.-Atty. Dewing denied authorities knew for certain the identity of the brutal killer, as police earlier reported.

"Detectives are working 24 hours a day on the case and will continue to do so until the slayer is apprehended," said Dewing. "I am confident the mystery will be solved, but right now we do not know who the killer is and no arrests are imminent.

"We have some confusing, some conflicting and some suspicious evidence which points in two or three different directions.

$1500 Reward

Rewards totaling $1500 in War Bonds will be paid for exclusive information to the Record-American-Sunday Advertiser leading to the apprehension of the slayer of 10-year-old Frances McGrath.

These papers offered the first $1000 in War Bonds and an additional $500 was offered by a reader, who asked that his identity remain confidential.

Surrenders In Wife Shooting

Sought since his 36-year-old wife was shot in what police described as a family quarrel, Frank DiFrancisco, 46, Market st., Cambridge, today surrendered at Framingham State Police barracks.

Mrs. Alice DiFrancisco, mother of six children, was reported in serious condition at Cambridge City Hospital, suffering from two bullet wounds in her chest.

29 Service Men Arraigned in Riot

Twenty-nine Negro sailors and soldiers faced charges of disorderly conduct in Roxbury court today in the aftermath of a three-hour riot in which police reserves battled 200 servicemen.

The riot, at Washington and Ruggles sts., Roxbury, attracted service men from a nearby USO dance. Eight of those arrested were also charged with carrying knives.

The trouble started when Patrolman John P. Heffernan of the Roxbury Crossing station saw a group of 12 Negro sailors drinking in a Ruggles st. doorway and ordered them to move away.

Refusing to obey the officer, the group surrounded him and menaced him with knives, he said.

Jammed Whistle Wakes Populace

The screaming whistle on a New Haven railroad engine in the Southampton st. yards today aroused residents from Cambridge all the way to Braintree.

For a half-hour the piercing blast continued, while police stations and newspaper switchboards were flooded with calls from persons who believed it either a signal of victory or an air raid alarm.

The blast, caused when the whistle became stuck was heard plainly in a score of communities, with information requests coming from South Boston, Dorchester, Newton, Milton, Quincy and Needham, in addition to Cambridge and Braintree.

The whole boiler of steam was exhausted before the whistle halted. Exceptionally clear air and quiet of the night was seen as the reason for the blast being heard at such great distance.

Robots Kill General, Other British Notables

LONDON, July 3 (AP)—Flying bombs have killed Maj. Gen Sir Arthur Scott, retired; his wife, Aimee Byng, a novelist, and Sir Percy Alden, for years prominent in the campaign against slums, it was disclosed today as the Germans resumed rocket bomb attacks on southern England after a post-midnight lull.

Gen. Scott, 82, began his army career in 1881, and retired in 1920. He became a major general in the first world war, commanding the royal artillery of the 3d army and later serving as general officer commanding the 12th (Eastern) division. He served in South Africa, and comanded the Lucknow division in India.

Sir Percy, 79, was secretary-treasurer of the Sulgrave Manor board, had lectured in the United States and was the author of publications on the unemployed, the unemployable, housing and other social problems.

One flying bomb hit a house, killing a mother and five of her nine children.

Besides the new hail of rocket bombs, the Germans also made scattered raids by regular aircraft.

The German-controlled Paris radio identified Plymouth and Portsmouth as the principal targets of the robot blitz, and said both cities had suffered heavy damage.

First English reports said a large general store had been hit in one area and buildings wrecked. A number of casualties was recorded.

Shortly after daylight one flying bomb blasted a row of stores and dwellings in another area, also causing numerous casualties.

There was considerable speculation on what Churchill might say in the House fo Commons tomorrow. It is expected he will give a frank report on the flying bombs, coupled with a reminder the Germans will be brought to account.

The British press expressed belief the assaults served only to stiffen British resolution and — as the London Daily Mail put it—"to harden hearts always disposed to be soft toward a beaten enemy."

Reds Rout Nazis

ravles southwest of Minsk, and captured Neleswiez, 25 miles northeast of the railway junction of Baranowcze.

From a military point of view the defense of Minsk appeared useless, but the Germans were fighting desperately as they fought in trapped Cherbourg last week in Normandy.

Just as fascinating as the Reds' whirlwind offensive was the apparent collapse of the German armies in White Russia.

"We see the German army falling apart everywhere," reported Pravda Correspondent Vadim Kozhevnikov. "In Borisov there were three concentration camps for German deserters. During the first days of our offensive the number of prisoners in these camps was doubled."

Another Pravda dispatch reported "huge quantities of German equipment strewn around forests and swamps of White Russia. In places the stench of German dead is so strong it is difficult to breathe."

With units deserting and fleeing in numerous sectors the Germans were reported to be hurrying special storm troop units into battle to guard communications.

"Thousands of new German prisoners are being taken," reported Kozhevnikov. "The forests swarm with them. Towards evening the Germans crawl out of the woods and send delegations to give themselves up. I saw a German medical officer pestering a girl directing traffic on a road to leave her post and take him prisoner."

This correspondent also said "Fighters of our supply columns are capturing Germans by the hundreds. The Germans as a rule prefer to give up to supply troops or traffic officers, considering this safest.

"We saw how peasants from one village marched 160 Germans from a forest. We even saw a general commander who had on the clothes of a private.

"Often where our troops have surrounded the Germans we find German officers and men whom the Germans themselves have killed."

Germans Using Wooden Bullets?

WASHINGTON, July 3 (INS)—Army reports indicated the Germans have used wooden bullets against American troops in France.

Maj. Gen. A. W. Kerner, chief medical officer of the Allied expeditionary forces, reported to the war department that fibrous splinters found in some wounds led doctors to believe they were particles of wooden bullets.

"These wounds did not respond to treatment as rapidly as those caused by metal missiles," he said.

Japanese units on Bougainville have been reduced to using wooden bullets, but this is the first report of their possible employment by the Germans.

Halifax Visits England

LONDON (AP)—Lord Halifax, ambassador to the United States, and his wife have returned to England for a short visit, the foreign office announced.

Nazis Battle French Revolt

LONDON, July 3 (AP)—German trops were reported today to be pressing a large scale drive in southwestern France in an effort to smash underground resistance described by one collaborationist source as a real civil war directed from abroad.

A disturbing situation was rising to plague the Germans at home where, according to Madrid, some 50,000 foreign prisoners have escaped since the Allied invasion of France.

Abbeville Kids Give Our Fliers Trouble

By HUCK FINNEGAN

EIGHTH AIR FORCE, England—Air war over the Channel isn't so one-sided as many U. S. day-dreamers believe. That's straight from T-Sgt. John Good, 27, of 35 Standish st., Cambridge, who had 16 missions to his credit at the time of our meeting.

Good is a flying engineer on the Randie Lou, which took part in the first U. S. raid over Berlin. Previously he and his crew had five missions on the famous Hard Luck which is now back in the States.

"It's getting easier, on the whole," said Good, "because we have fighter escort now. When we started out we were on our own. But it's still rough, especially when we run into the Abbeville Kids. They're great fighters. That's the outfit Goering himself used to lead, and to qualify a flier must have 15 Allied planes to his credit.

"They've given us some anxious moments," he continued. "On four successive missions we had four wing changes. We've limped home on one engine; our pilot has been wounded."

Miraculously, Good's crew was still together after their series of hairbreath escapes.

Good's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. An uncle, Frank, is in the Supreme Court. The young flier used to work for Gutterson Leather Co. on Lincoln st., Boston. He's been in the service since Jan. 4, 1941.

WANTS NEWS

News from home is what interests Sgt. Bill Collins of 3 Payson pl., Charlestown, whom we met on his 28th birthday. "How are the Red Sox going?" he wants to know. "Did they ever find out who murdered those women in Charlestown? (The Limey Wilson case.) Anything doing around The Loop'?"

Munching on a biscuit in the Red Cross club, Collins couldn't get his fill of news. "I wish the circulation managers in Boston would send their papers over here in care of the Red Cross," he said. "I'd like to read a box score now and then. I don't get enough baseball detail in 'Stars and Stripes'."

WED RITA LYNCH

Collins was a receiver at Hotel Statler before his induction two years ago. He married Rita Lynch, of the Charlestown swimming Lynches. He's assistant crew chief here, and can rip a plane apart and put it together again in a jiffy. "I've seen a ship come home with as many as 300 holes in her, and we've had it ready in a week," he said.

Collings attended High School of Commerce, where he ran on the track team. "In my senior year I didn't miss a game at Fenway Park. That's when Earl Webb was breaking the doubles record." He wondered what was left of the gang on "The Hill."

"Bet Sniff McLaughlin, Larry Edwards and Duke Dinn are still around. They must be 6-F's, he smiled. He's pleased that D. B. Stanbro, Statler manager, keeps in touch with him regularly, pleased that brother Robert, 18, Merchant Mariner, gets to see him every now and then. "Saw him last April 1," he said.

He was also delighted to hear that Mike Lenane (Boston American) survived Guadalcanal.

Like Collins, T-Sgt. Harold C. Machamer, 85 Lamprey st., Manchester, N. H., formerly of Marblehead, misses the Boston papers.

"I've been in the Army since 36 and am used to being away from home. But this is the first time I've been away that I have not been getting the Boston papers regularly," complained the young ground crew chief.

Harold's wife, Elizabeth, used to tour the U. S. camps with him. He has two brothers in the service. "Leon, 28, is still in the States, but Don, 21, is in England with the Signal Corps. I haven't been able to locate him."

T-Sgt. Paul J. Blackmer, son of Mrs. Mary E., 10 Merrick ave., Springfield, was a partner in the Maxfield-Blackmer Brokerage Co. and was pleased to hear that Maxfield had been named a selectman in Longmeadow. Blackmer is in charge of combat personnel here. He has a brother, Cpl. Francis B., in the Medical Corps.

HASN'T SEEN SON

Cpl. Charles Whalon, Jr., 23, of 84 Washburn ave., East Providence, is one of the many young fathers overseas who has yet to see his baby. "Hope it isn't long before I do," he said, producing a picture of wife Jeanne and four months old son, Charles, 2d. "Think we'll make it by Christmas?"

Despite his fireside yearnings, Whalon has gained 20 pounds in his two years of service. He's an armorer on the ship Fletcher's Castoria, named after Pilot Fletcher. Before the war Whalon was a mechanic in Klein's Machine Shop, 57 South st., East Providence. He has a brother Raymond, 22, in the Navy.

Tall, red-headed Sgt. Carl Christian Anderson, 23, of 11 Mt. Pleasant st., Shelton, Ct. (near Hartford), was learning the carpenter's trade when he entered the Army, now is a radio mechanic.

The work must agree with him because he's gone from 174 pounds to 196 in two years, "but I'll go back to carpentering after the war," Sgt. Anderson is single. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Carl Peter Anderson.

Bonfire, Parade to Mark Holiday; Sun Will Smile

With the big fireworks on battlefields throughout the world, America tomorrow celebrates the 168th anniversary of our independence—a freedom our soldiers soon will bring to the oppressed of Axis dominated nations.

Meanwhile, ideal vacation weather continued for the thousands enjoying a long holiday at seaside and mountain resorts, and the weather bureau predicted that fair skies would hold sway through tomorrow.

RETURN EARLY

Vacationists had better not wait until the last moment to come home, however. Railroad and bus company officials warned that the exodus was so great the throngs must come back in relays and not depend on last minute trains.

While local fireworks are missing, there will be bonfires for the first time since Pearl Harbor, along with parades and patriotic exercises.

Boston's official bonfire will be touched off at midnight tonight at William A. Smith playground, Allston, where spectators will see effigies of Hitler, Hirohito and Mussolini go up in smoke and flames.

PARADE TOMORROW

Tomorrow there will be a military parade through downtown Boston streets, along with a flag raising at City Hall and observances at the Declaration of Independence plaque on the Common, at the Granary Burying Ground and at the Old State House.

Boston's annual Independence Day address will be given by Sen. Francis Maloney, famous Connecticut orator, at 11:30 a. m. tomorrow in Faneuil Hall. In the evening there will be a band concert and holiday program on the Common.

Virtually every community in the state will have some sort of parade or holiday program.

Noxon Jurors Hear Rebuttal Witnesses

By PAULINE WARREN

PITTSFIELD, July 3—Rebuttal witnesses followed each other in quick succession on the witness stand today as the resumption of the trial of John F. Noxon, wealthy lawyer accused of having electrocuted his six-months-old abnormal baby.

First witness was Capt. Camille Marcel, who testified when he searched the garage Monday, Sept. 27, the day of Noxon's arrest, there was no soldering iron in evidence.

The State has claimed Noxon bought an electric cord at a local store just a few days before his baby died to enable him to extend the ground cord wire of his radio to electrocute his child. Noxon admitted buying this cord but stated he could not remember when, and also claimed he used it on his soldering iron.

Inspector Daniel McColgan, the next witness, also said the iron was not in sight when they searched Noxon's work bench in the garage.

Dr. Alan Moritz, state pathologist, who performed the autopsy on the Noxon baby, testified the dumbbell had "continuous parallel lines from end to end."

The defense has claimed the child electrocuted himself by touching a trouble cord with bare spots his father was using to repair the radio and that this mark was caused by a safety pin at the side of the baby's diaper which carried the current through part of his body.

The state brought up the point that if a pin caused the burn then a gap would show for the part of the pin inserted in the cloth. Dr. Moritz testified there was no gap in the linear burn on the baby's arm.

Other witnesses were James Durrell of the Monowatt Company who testified the cord Noxon is supposed to have bought two days before the baby died was 12 feet 2 inches long when it left the factory.

Ex-Gov. Ely objected and Judge Pinanski sustained the objection over the statement from Dist. Atty. Alberti that the State was trying to prove that 8 or 9 inches of that cord was now missing.

Besides her daughter, she leaves a son, Roscoe Murray of Cambridge; a brother, Walter Carlow of Brookline, and two sisters, Mrs. Everett Sherborn of Winchester, and Mrs. Ella Breedlove of Albany, N. Y.

Envoy Taylor Routs Allied Officers, Wins 60-Rm. Villa

ROME, July 3 (AP)—Myron Taylor, President Roosevelt's personal representative to the Vatican, established his residence today in a 60-room villa owned by Marion Morgan Kemp at 22 via Gregoriana, after a scramble among high Allied officers who wanted it.

Taylor's rights were established when he walked in with a personal letter from the wealthy New York woman, whom he had known for years, and who had requested him to take over the villa as his official residence.

Servants, guarding the premises during the years of the owner's absence, led officers of the Allied Property Control office to a corner of the garden and dug up a box containing jewels which the owner was unable to take to the United States.

"We buried them ourselves," said Marie Guidi, musical protege of the owner.

The walls are hung with priceless Gobelin tapestries. Complete services of gold plate, Spode china and sterling silver are among its treasures, which include ancient Japanese screens, original paintings by the old masters, and Venetian glassware.

Alabaster baths, wall coverings made of handwoven silk, and a library of 5000 volumes are among other appointments which Marion Kemp assembled in her Italian home.

Sullivan 'Sick' Of Mayoralty

Now multi-mayored Cambridge has a "game of checkers" in the opinion of "Mayor" Michael A. Sullivan, executive without portfolio or desk space, who today announced he was "sick and tired" of it all.

His illness and fatigue, the result of a week's "occupancy" of the mayoralty, was aggravated by the presence of Police Sgt. Charles Warnock outside Mayor John H. Corcoran's office with orders to keep all pretenders from the "throne room."

"I don't want to continue this game of checkers," Sullivan told reporters. "I think the city council should decide once and for all who is mayor."

"Mayor" Sullivan had no one to argue with when he showed up at City Hall shortly after 10. Mayor Corcoran was out of town, his secretary was absent, the mayor's clerk was vacationing and a young substitute was operating the switchboard.

U. S. War Flag

ROME, July 3 (AP)—The flag that flew over the United States capitol in Washington on Dec. 8, 1941, when war was declared against Japan and on Dec. 11 when war was declared on Germany will be raised in Rome on July 4, it was announced today.

OPA to Tell Bad Cost News Soon

WASHINGTON, July 3 (AP)—The Office of Price Administration promised today to inform consumers promptly how much more they can expect to pay for shirts, dresses, sheets, pillow cases, etc., under price advances authorized for cotton textile mills.

About one-third of all cotton fabric output will command higher prices at the mill, said OPA Admr. Chester Bowles. These include fabrics widely used for moderately priced house dresses, men's shirts and shorts, work clothes and knit cotton underwear.

Bowles said he does not expect "the net effect on the cost of living would be substantial."

Even the mills, however, do not yet know exact ceiling increases granted them by OPA under terms of the Bankhead amendment to the new law extending price controls.

Quincy Flier In 300th Raid

Col. Elmer J. Rogers, Jr., of Herron rd., Quincy, heads a Flying Fortress group, the 97th, which today made its 300th bombing raid, hitting rail yards at Brod, Yugoslavia, the Associated Press reported.

Fortresses under Rogers' command were the first AAF unit to operate in combat from Britain, Italy, North Africa and Russia. Twelve of them made the first American air attack on occupied Europe.

Losses to the unit have totaled fewer than 60 planes, against 344 aircraft destroyed.

Off Anzio, Italy, Rogers directed a crash landing of his plane, damaged by flak. He was wounded and won the Silver Star and Purple Heart.

Rogers was a pioneer in blind flying, serving as an instructor at Brooks Field, San Antonio, Tex.

DIVORCE IN LONDON—Jessie Matthews, British film star, today was granted a divorce from John Robert Monro on charges of infidelity . . . in London. She said they were happy until she returned from a tour of the United States in 1941.

Gamblers Ply Trade After Bushnell Drive

Atty.-Gen. Bushnell takes the leading role in this ninth article of a series discussing the adverse effect of political considerations on the morale and efficiency of the Boston Police Department. And for the first time are told some of significant omissions of his famous gambling crusade that did not come to light at the time.

By BARRINGTON WELLES

Atty. Gen. Robert T. Bushnell, determined to remove Commr. Joseph F. Timilty from the police department, stepped into the picture right after the Cocoanut Grove tragedy.

On Dec. 31, 1942, with the aid of Asst. Dist.-Atty. Frederick T. Doyle of Suffolk County, he obtained 13 indictments against those he charged with responsibility in various ways for the holocaust which snuffed out 492 lives.

Up to date, of those 13 men only one, proprietor Barnet Welansky was sent to prison after being convicted and sentenced on manslaughter charges. Several others were acquitted after trial.

GAMBLING RAIDS

One of them, Capt. Joseph T. Bucigross of the Warren ave. station, still remains suspended from his post and has failed in repeated efforts to have his case brought to trial.

But the attorney general was busy with other matters.

From August of 1942, months before the Cocoanut Grove tragedy, until Jan. 12, 1943, when Bushnell picked Boston as the focal point from which to launch his series of gambling raids in investigation and the gathering of evidence to end what he described as flagrant abandonment of law enforcement to curb gambling on the number pool and horse races.

His raids extended from Boston into Worcester and as far west as Springfield, and Bushnell, subsequently, in addresses before men's clubs and at political gatherines, cited his activities in making the state "clean and law abiding."

"CONTROLLED POLITICS"

"I tried to avoid the little fellows," he said at a men's club meeting in Norwood last February. "The largest group operating in Boston banked $4,000,000 a year and their ramifications extended as far as Texas.

"A second group controlled the politics of the city of Boston and they were always considered immune from prosecution.

"A third group, headed by a former $23-a-week clerk, controlled beano, a chain of theaters and large real estate holdings."

Now let's look at the record of the cleanup of gambling activities in the State.

The first raid in Boston drew a total of 33 persons into the State police net on Jan. 12, 1943.

Of these only one man, Harry "Doc Jasper" Sagansky, the alleged master mind of pool operations in the Boston area, was given a State Prison sentence. Three others received House of Correction sentences.

Fines totaling $31,350 were imposed in all other cases while some of the defendants were given suspended jail sentences and placed on probation.

Sixteen men in Worcester County paid a total of $13,500 in fines and the nearest they came to a cell were suspended sentences in the House of Correction in 15 of the cases. Eleven indictments charged number pool operations and the remaining five were indicted on charges connected with horse race bets.

22 IN SPRINGFIELD

Raids in Springfield netted 22 persons and a total of $14,200 in fines were collected. Suspended jail terms were imposed in the cases of 15 of the defendants in addition to the fines of varying amounts.

That constitutes the record of Atty. Gen. Bushnell's statewide cleanup of gambling after raids in the three largest cities of the Commonwealth in which a total of 71 persons were arrested and fines totaling $59,050 imposed.

Only one of those 71 persons went to prison while suspended sentences were imposed in the cases of a number of the others.

But what the attorney-general does not disclose during his tours of the men's club and political dinner circuit are the number of cities where gambling was going on and which used Boston as a "layoff" point for heavy bets.

STILL PLY TRADE

His hearers hear nothing about how these were investigated.

Nor do they hear how the gamblers, forced out of the three largest cities of the state, have made their way into the smaller communities and still are plying a vigorous and prosperous trade.

Once the small fry had pleaded guilty and Sagansky's prison term had offered the attorney-general a chance to publicize his cleanup in his own political way, did it naturally follow that gambling had died and that all was pure?

Instead of harassing the Boston police department and throwing it into a greater turmoil than the previous score of years of weakening of its morale had accomplished, he might have occupied his time to better advantage in inquiring into the activities of gamblers in the scores of smaller communities to which his "clean-up" had driven them.

(Wednesday's installment discloses how Atty.-Gen. Bushnell labored in his gambling crusade and brought fourth only mice, with some interesting sidelights of the crusade's connection with his came paign to remove Commr. Timilty from office.)

Weed Season Is at Its Peak

By FOSTER H. WEISS

(Head Vegetable Garden Dept., Norfolk County Agr. School, and Director of the Boston Record-American-Sunday Adviser Garden on the Common.)

With the season about one-third over, it is now possible to see who is going to make the garden successful.

In some gardens there are more weeds than vegetables. This first week in July is probably the peak of the weed season, so, if you have kept ahead of the weeds up to now, your job will be lighter.

Some gardeners claim that they cannot kill the weeds. This trouble is probably caused by not using the proper method. Weeds must be taken out completely; that is, root and all, if you expect to kill them.

Gardens are just starting to produce. The best crops are still to come. We have a large investment in Victory Gardens and must see the project through. Do not let weeds reduce your yield.

EXTRA CROPS FOR CANNING

From all indications it looks as if our program is ahead of last year.

Victory gardeners must continue to plant if they expect to produce the abundance of vegetables for fall use and canning.

Last year's canned goods are being used up, food is being rationed again so there is still a need for home production and canning.

HILLING POTATOES

When potatoes get about 12 inches high it is generally considered advisable to give them a final hilling. Pull the earth up against both sides of the row. This does not mean extreme hilling, but a broad ridge will give the tubers that form a chance to develop and protect them from the heat. While you are hilling be sure to pull any weeds that may be started.

Dust or spray potatoes to control the potato bug and flea beetle

LEVEL CULTIVATION BEST

Although we have recommended level cultivation for all crops I have seen some evidence of hilling. By keeping the soil level you allow the plants to develop a deeper root system. It also allows the soil to take up any rain which may fall

Mystery Serpent Appears in Lake

McCall, Idaho, July 3 (AP)—It's yellow, about 35 feet long, and has humps on its back; it looks like a whale; it's "like nothing I have ever seen before."

Those were descriptions today of Payette Lake's "sea serpent," the strange creature that has been reported seen periodically for 10 years and which reappeared yesterday.

One of the previous scoffers, Walter Bowling, is now among those who have seen—and are convinced.

Bowling said he noticed a commotion in the lake yesterday and thought several large fish were swimming in column. Then when the "fish" were within 75 feet of shore, he said he made out a light yellowish creature about 35 feet long, with large humps on its shell-like back.

Staff Sergt.'s First Born Christened

Patricia Anne Riley, daughter of Staff Sergt. John R. We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness.

Here are words familiar to every American schoolboy. Their beauty and clarity have remained undimmed through the one hundred and sixty-eight years since Thomas Jefferson drafted them into the Declaration of Independence, July 4th, 1776.

Let Us Give Thought To Our Own Affairs

By KARL H. VON WIEGAND
Dean of American War Correspondents

National administration on a sound social and stable business basis and healthy progressive American nationalism with the interests of the United States and the Western Hemisphere in the foreground in place of a restless, shifting, unstable internationalism on Revolutionary quicksands.

COL. VINCENT C. BREEN

That is the prospect opened and the promise contained in the nomination of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey for president and Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio for vice-president, on the Republican ticket.

Much space is given in the press and on the radio and there is much talk and much written on the kind of governments we are going to give or impose on 85,000,000 German people, on 90,000,000 Japanese, on France, Italy, Romania, Poland, Hungary.

THINK OF OUR OWN

Let us give some serious thought to the kind of government we are going to give ourselves in the so very critical four years to come.

The government of the United States, its national administration, its domestic political, economic, monetary and social policies, its foreign policy and commitments, should receive first thought and first consideration in the mind of the American people, whom it most concerns.

The impact of the revolutionary political, economic, monetary and social flareback of the greatest and most tragic war so far in history is bound, in the very nature of its scope, duration and intensity, to be severe.

SOUND GOVERNMENT

The nomination of Dewey and Bricker opens the prospect for a government of sound national administration of stability, progressive but free from impulsive visionary experiments and the influence of foreign ideologies alien to our institutions.

In foreign affairs and relations it promises a return to the independence of true Americanism, firmness and forcefulness combined with restraint, caution, deliberation and careful weighing of situations before action.

What does it profit us if our brave and heroic fighting forces overseas conquer the world and here at home we lose our national character and the heritage left us by George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, Alexander Hamilton and Abraham Lincoln?

Drowning Toll Hits Eight

Vacationists were warned today to use every precaution while boating and bathing after compilation of a pre-holiday toll of eight drowning deaths.

Arthur F. Meranda, 17, of Fourth st., South Boston, drowned in Old Arlington reservoir despite rescue attempts by Life Guard Martin Powers and other swimmers.

At Millbury, Wilfred Croteau, 36, of Elm st., and William A. Pierce, 50 of Main st., both of Millbury, were drowned when their motorboat overturned in Dority pond.

Roger Beaudoin, 16, of Cote ave., Woonsocket, R. I., a student for the priesthood, drowned in Hinds pond, Gardner, where he had joined friends for the holiday.

At Newburyport, George Sherman, 43, of Dove st., Newburyport, lost his life when his boat overturned in the Merrimack river. Although he had worked about boats for years, he could not swim.

Alston Spencer, Jr., 16, of Plainfield pike, Scituate, R. I., drowned in Scituate reservoir when an inflated inner tube floated out of his grasp.

Lester A. Thompson, 17, of Beckett st., Portland, Me., failed to come up after diving into Forest lake, at Cumberland, Me.

Horace Maxfield, 19, drowned at Lebanon, N. H., when he fell from a boat while fishing with his father.

Norman H. Davis Rites Arranged

WASHINGTON, July 3 (INS)—The nation today mourned the passing of Norman H. Davis, 65, chairman of the American Red Cross and close personal friend and adviser to President Roosevelt.

Norman Davis

Davis, at Hot Springs, Va., recuperating from poor health, died of a stroke. Funeral services will be held Wednesday morning at Christ Church, Alexandria, Va.

Nelson Dean Jay, chairman of the Red Cross administrative committee, will carry on the administrative functions of the organization.

Wallace on Way Home From China

LANCHOW, China, July 3 (AP)—Vice-President Wallace was en route to the United States today after ending his 12-day tour of China with a visit here yesterday at the shrine containing the supposed remains of Genghis Khan.

In a farewell statement Wallace said he had learned that despite economic difficulties and current military reverses, "the spirit of resistance to Japan continues strong in the Chinese." United States Army officers and men, he added, "are full of fight in the best tradition."

GI Pay Day

NEW YORK, July 3 (INS)—American troops had their first pay-day in France today. Thousands of newly-printed blue French francs were handed out.

In the American sections of the front there was little to spend money on. Most liberated towns are "off limit." Army postoffices did a land office business, converting francs into money orders for the boys to send home.

Ice Lotion Ends Dog-Day Discomfort

Beauty

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE

IT'S WITHIN OUR MEMORY . . . so it can't be in the too distant past . . . when it was a treat to give your face an ice pack . . . to pep up facial circulation and let the complexion emerge as fresh and glowing as a firm, red rose from a florist's refrigerator.

True it was messy business . . . but, in those days, we felt it was worth the doing. Remember?

These are days when a hunk of ice . . . or its scientifically evolved equivalent . . . wouldn't go amiss over hot faces . . . sticky and perspiring complexions suffering from too much heat and humidity . . . more often than not ruining make-up and streaking our facial appeal. For it is an art to look cool and fresh in sweltering days.

It even makes me cool to tell you about an ice lotion . . . an unusual preparation . . . that has the effect of an ice pack without the inconvenience of using ice itself. It is a lotion with a faintly, inexplicable, refreshing smell . . . that imparts a bracing, invigorating feeling to the skin . . . instantly touching it with radiance and sparkle.

We can't tell you its formula . . . for that is the maker's cherished secret. But it definitely is an ice lotion with all its implied excellence and welcome for dog-day facial discomfort. You literally wash your face in it. After removing your cleansing cream . . . saturate a pad of cotton with the lotion and douse your face in its comfort and coolth. And your neck, too.

Then take a second saturated pad . . . and this time pat the lotion upward and outward . . . starting at the base of the neck. If you don't feel as cool as a cucumber after the application, we'll be very much surprised. A four-ounce bottle costs only a dollar . . . cheap enough for summer comfort.

For the name of this ice lotion, phone the Beauty Dept., LIBerty 4000, or write me, care of the Boston Evening American, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

ROSES FOR A ROMANTIC BRIDE . . . and fits tingly enough . . . Alexis Smith . . . who models this informal wedding garb . . . a long-waisted dress of soft blue crepe . . . has only recently said her own "I Do." Alexis completes the modish model with a tiny chapeau . . . rose-trimmed . . . and her bouquet is of significantly lovely flowers in a deep velvety red.—R. M.

HOT, STICKY FACES are the penalty we pay for summer sun . . . but you can have your sun and enjoy it, too, with an unusual ice lotion . . . when patted on the face . . . gives it bracing, cooling radiance . . . that spells facial repose and beauty . . . and you can always look as unmindful of the heat as Warner Actress Marjorie Riordan.

Black Cottons Fill the Bill

By BETTINA BEDWELL

COTTONS have become big city sophisticates this summer, and particularly black cottons, which are to be seen around in the shape of suits and dresses. From now on until Fall these cottons are set to dominate the scene in towns and cities over the country.

There are black cotton dresses for very grand parties, and there are even more of them to wear around all day long in the hot weather. Some are made colorful with a bit of flashing detail, others are all black, but they all have a very chic look to them.

Miss Dullin has sketched one black cotton dress, a young model from Mary Lewis, made of coral-colored braid which give an apron effect to the front of the skirt and edge the neckline and cross the short sleeves.

My Day

By Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Sunday—I want to mention a special election issue which I received in June from the New York League of Women Voters. It is their "monthly news" sheet, and it gives a great deal of information valuable to the people of New York State in an election year. I imagine the league is giving similar information to its members in every state.

With my little monthly news came a single sheet in which the essentials for the political party platforms on foreign policy were printed, and while these are very general, they embody the minimum of what we should expect in our foreign policy planks.

Finally, a sheet was enclosed with cartoons depicting the importance of taking part in the nominating primaries.

* * *

SO OFTEN we find ourselves faced with the fact that we do not like the nominees of either party. We decide that bad as the choice may be, we will vote with our traditional party. That seems to me to be the best way of getting an unrepresentative form of government.

Next, I want to speak of something which has been done in Kansas. They made a survey of areas where libraries are lacking, and then sent a traveling book exhibit around. In one county they circulated books to the rural schools. This created excitement everywhere in cities and rural areas.

This book exhibit is designed to arouse the interest of children in reading, to introduce them to "good books, new books, recent books." As a result, the children expressed the wish that some of these books could be either in their homes or in the public library.

Colorful Fruit Salads

By MARTHA LEE

COOL AND COLORFUL fruit salads are ideal deserts for summertime. In making them, the vegetable salad bowl idea can be used effectively. A crystal-clear bowl filled with mixed fruits couldn't be lovelier to look at or more appealing as a desert.

Your ration book needn't suffer either, because unrationed frozen fruits may be combined with fresh ones in these salads. Dried fruits such as prunes, raisins and dates are another source of rich color and flavor.

Nut meats, sliced maraschino cherries and frosty mint leaves (dipped in powdered sugar) are other ingredients which will insure success for a fruit salad wherever a dessert or refreshment is called for.

FRUIT SALAD BOWL

Wash and dry carefully one or more varieties of fresh crisp greens such as romaine, lettuce, watercress, endive, chicory, escarole. Arrange attractively in a salad bowl. Place on the greens a variety of fruits such as orange and grapefruit sections, long banana slices (banana cut into halves crosswise and then each half lengthwise), circles or crescents of avocado, thin slices of apple with the peel left on, strips of fresh pineapple, whole berries, cherries or other fruits. Arrange these to give good contrast in color, texture and shape. Add French dressing just before serving.

Accompaniments for these desserts can be time-savers, too. Fresh crisp crackers or tasty cookies from the store save tedious hours in the kitchen.

Making a little fruit go a long way is no trick at all if it is molded in gelatin. Served with creamy fruit dressing and crackers or cookies on the side, Summer Salad-Dessert makes a small amount of fruit into eight substantial servings.

SUMMER SALAD-DESSERT

1 pkg. lime gelatin
1½ cups hot water
½ cup orange juice
1 cup strawberries
2 tbsp. sugar
2 oranges, sliced widthwise
¼ cup chopped dates

Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Add orange juice, pour into mold and chill. Mix sugar with strawberries and orange slices on bottom of mold. Spread dates in layer near top of gelatin. Chill until firm and unmold. Top with light cream fruit dressing and serve with crackers or cookies. Makes 8 servings.

CREAMY FRUIT SALAD

¼ cup orange juice
1½ tbsp. lemon juice
1 egg, slightly beaten
1-3 cup sugar
½ cup evaporated milk, chilled
Few grains of salt
½ tsp. vanilla

Mix fruit juices, egg, and sugar together and cook for 2 minutes over hot heat. Whip evaporated milk, add salt, vanilla, and fruit mixture, and continue beating until throughly blended.

GINGERALE AND FRUIT SALAD

1½ tbsp. gelatin
¼ cup cold water
½ cup boiling water
1 tbsp. sugar
1½ cups ginger ale
2 tbsp. lemon juice
1 cup sliced fresh or frozen peaches
½ cup halved seeded white grapes

Soften gelatin in cold water. Add boiling water and sugar, and stir until gelatin is dissolved. Stir in ginger ale and lemon juice. Chill until mixture begins to set, and fold in fruits. Pour into 1-quart mold and chill until set. Unmold on large plate. Garnish with lettuce cups filled with mayonnaise mixed with diced celery and a little whipped cream.

Note: Other diced fresh fruits may replace grapes.

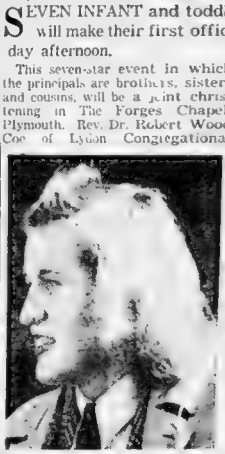
Joint Christening for 7

By BETTY ALDEN

SEVEN INFANT and toddler socialites of the same family will make their first official public appearance next Sunday afternoon.

This seven-star event in which the principals are brothers, sisters and cousins, will be a joint christening in The Forges Chapel, Plymouth. Rev. Dr. Robert Wood Coe of Lydon Congregational Church and Rev. Frederick Lawrence of St. Paul's Church, both of Brookline, will officiate.



MARIE LOUISE KING—bride-to-be of Maj. Benjamin Beale.

The youngsters are Ellen and Lothrop Withington 3d, children of Capt. and Mrs. Lothrop Withington, Jr. (Lois Brewster) of Plymouth and Greenwood, Mississippi, and their cousin, Anne Withington Brewster, daughter of Lt. and Mrs. Spencer Hatch Brewster (Marietta Withington) of Plymouth and Valdosta, Ga.

Also Virginia and Oslin Hixon Meyer, children of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Meyer (Louise Fry) of Brookline, their cousin, Alfred Meyer, 3d, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Meyer, Jr. (Dorothy Fry) of Plymouth and Flint, Mich., and Tony Greenwood, son of Mrs. Judith Greenwood of Plymouth and Fitchburg.

Among the proud grandparents celebrating with an informal tea after the christening are Mr. and Mrs. Lothrop Withington, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis W. Brewster, Mrs. D. Whipple Fry, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Meyer, Sen. and Mrs. Marcus Coolidge and Mrs. Levi Greenwood.

The Forges Chapel is on the spacious Withington and Fry estate in Plymouth where a number of the family weddings have taken place.

POST DEB MARIE LOUISE KING is in the Navy but her heart belongs to an Army officer. News of her engagement to Maj. Benjamin Beale, son of Mr and Mrs. Arthur M. Beale of Chestnut st., is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin King of Chestnut Hill.

Marie Louise is an aviation machinist's mate 3c in the WAVES at Jacksonville, Fla. She graduated from Winsor, was a deb in '41-42 and belongs to the Junior League and Vincent Club. She is a niece of Mr. and Mrs. Gelston T. King of Sherborn, an accomplished horsewoman and took part in many society shows before the war.

Maj. Beale is a field artillery officer at Fort Bragg, N. C. He graduated from Milton and Harvard and belongs to Tennis and Racquet, Hasty Pudding-Institute of 1770 and Iroquois Clubs. He is a brother of Mrs. Talbot Baker (Polly Beale) of Mills.

Her 12th Baby Is 14 1-2-Lb. Girl

CHICAGO, July 3 (INS)—A girl weighing 14 pounds, 9½ ounces, largest child ever delivered in the Norwegian American Hospital, was born today to Mrs. Philip Frontzak, mother of 11 other children.

The baby measured 24 inches in length, four inches more than the average.

Mrs. Frontzak, originally from Brooklyn, N. Y., is 5 feet, 10 inches tall, and weighs approximately 300 pounds.

Mass Wednesday For PFC J. Duggan

A special mass will be celebrated Wednesday morning at 7:30 in Sacred Heart Church, East Cambridge, for PFC Edward J. Duggan, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Duggan.

PFC Duggan has been reported missing in action in France since June 8. His sister, Mrs. Mary Cardello of 28 Parlin st., Everett, arranged for the mass.

Coleman Rites Wednesday at 10

Funeral services for Patrick A. "Paddy" Coleman, 71, well known South End sportsman and long associated with charities in that district, will be held Wednesday with a 10 a. m. requiem mass at St. Cecilia's Church, Belvidere st., Back Bay.

He died at his summer home in Manomet ave., Nantasket, after a long illness.

At the bedside of the doughty South Ender, a powerful figure in the city's political circles, were a brother, Michael Coleman of Brookline, and Dr. Rose Mowicz.

Coleman had been in failing health in late years and his illness caused an indefinite postponement of his scheduled trial in Suffolk Superior Court last May with 17 other defendants on charges of gambling conspiracy. Fourteen of the other defendants were subsequently acquitted.

To Be Commemorated

"The second day of July, 1776, will be the most memorable epoch in the history of America.

"I am apt to believe that it will be celebrated by succeeding generations as the great anniversary festival.

"It ought to be commemorated as THE DAY OF DELIVERANCE by solemn acts of devotion to God Almighty.

"It ought to be solemnized with pomp and parade, with shows, games, sports, guns, bells, bonfires and illuminations from one end of this continent to the other from this time forward forevermore!"—John Adams in a letter to Mrs. Adams dated July 3, 1776.

IT HAS ALMOST been forgotten that Congress adopted the Resolution of Independence on July 2, 1776, and Jefferson's Declaration of Independence on July 4, when it was proclaimed by the Liberty Bell to the world from the old State House at 5th and Chestnut streets in Philadelphia.

Note that John Adams in his prophetic words calls our Independence Day "THE DAY OF DELIVERANCE."

It was exactly that for the Declaration of Independence, of which tomorrow is the 168th anniversary, delivered us from the curse of a pall which hangs over the world again today as a menace to us and to all mankind.

That deliverance was from the tyranny of the state and from government by arbitrary decree.

July 4, 1776, liberated the American as an individual from the yoke of a king.

It broke the bonds of a foreign "alliance" to which Washington and Jefferson warned us never to return.

EVERY American should read over the Declaration of Independence tomorrow.

It is a tremendous, an inspiring, a life-giving document.

It was the child of the English Magna Carta of 1215 and of the English Bill of Rights of 1688 and the father of the American Constitution of 1787, the Bill of Rights of 1791 and of the Emancipation Proclamation of 1863.

The Declaration of Indepe*n*dence was also the fabled Promethean fennel-rod of heavenly fire in the new world that now illumines the eyes and the hearts of our men fighting today for the principles of the Declaration and the Constitu*t*ion on land, on sea and in the air.

As at Valley Forge and Monmouth, Americans are dying for the Declaration of Indepe*n*dence.

After you have read the Declaration, return to the title of that document which by common consent has been affixed to Jefferson's world-famous document: THE DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE.

The core-word is INDEPENDENCE.

That word is the soul of every real American.

The first of our national airs, "Hail, Columbia!" contained these ringing lines:

"Let INDEPENDENCE be our boast,
Ever mindful what it cost."

That is then, what the Fourth of July means to us when we call it the "Birthday of a Nation."

It means we became an INDEPENDENT national, political and social entity.

WASHINGTON, Jefferson and Adams on the eve of the most momentous and pivotal of our Fourth of Julys are asking us in solemn tones from the beyond:

"Will you—OUR—American people retain the INDEPENDENCE implicit in the Declaration and the Constitution which we gave you or will you exchange it—yea, sell it out!—for the interdependence of international alliances that will make your will subordinate to foreign wills and make our great Declaration and Constitution a plaything of alien interests?"

That question, which concerns our very life as free, independent Americans, may have to be answered with a definite yes or a no before another July 4 will have arrived.

We believe the American people, "ever-mindful what it cost," will reaffirm their NATIONAL INDEPENDENCE in thunder-tones!

WASHINGTON, July 3 — Upon returning from the practically cloistered calm of the Republican National Convention I discovered that a measure of confusion had developed in the Navy Department during my absence.

I am sorry I was not around to straighten it out, and no doubt Secretary Forrestal is, too. The way that man leans on me is a caution. It's getting so he'll hardly walk down a corridor at the Navy Building until I have taken a navigational fix to assure him it hasn't listed to starboard.

Of course, he could have come out to Chicago to consult me, but he probably heard I was playing around with Republicans. Nothing is more distressing to a New Deal Cabinet officer than to hear somebody is playing around with Republicans because of fear that it may become epidemic.

The aforementioned confusion has engulfed virtually every Navy officer who feels it would be nice to get an out-of-line promotion. Inasmuch as most officers have this strange feeling, it seems reasonable to assume that the confusion is fairly general.

The bafflement stems from a special order to the officer personnel. Ostensibly it is in English, but every officer to whom I talked said it mystified him.

The order, [illegible] as I assisted—nothing taken away, nothing added follow:

"Inside [illegible] of requests for out of line promotions of officers being received since promulgation of Bupers Circ. [illegible] indicate wide-spread misinterpretation of provisions of Paragraph 12 thereof.

"Recommendations must clearly and specifically set forth necessity equal necessity for increased rank. Recommendations based upon following reasons do not justify out of line promotion and their submission is not desired:

"A—Complement sheet allows higher rank for billet.

"B—Officer fully qualified for promotion by reason of age, experience, performance and other special qualifications.

"C—Officer not recommended by previous selection board or panel.

"D—Reward for efficient performance of duty in current assignment.

"E—Eligibility established by completion of minimum service requirements.

"F—Duties require dealing or conferring with officers his senior.

"Any recommendations received based solely on the above will be acknowledged and filed with record of officer concerned without further action."

* * *

COMMENTED one officer, who has developed galloping astigmatism from re-reading the order:

"I suppose there must be some way to get an out of line promotion, because I hear of instances but after studying this order I will be snubbed and holystoned if I know what it is!"

* * *

The thing that bothers me most, however, is this: How do you go about getting a "bupers cirlur"?

* * *

There is something lyrical about it, nevertheless. In fact, I am thinking of writing a musical, with Navy background, in which it will be the theme song.

An ensemble of hand-some officers, all wearing looks of far-away yearning, will come hornpiping onto the stage and sing:

"I wish I had a circular gal to,
"Love me like a bupers cirlur."

* * *

ORDINARILY as [illegible] and submissive a fellow as you would care to meet, Major LaGuardia has been complaining loudly to Washington for weeks about the beef shortage in New York City.

The mayoral plaints finally became so shrill and piercing that Lee Marshall, head of meat distribution in the War Food Administration, wired LaGuardia that 3,078,000 pounds of beef was available, and that, if New York City wanted it, it could have it all.

Now, it should be explained that beef for market is graded as follows: Choice, good, commercial, utility, and canners.

In normal times only about 15 to 20 per cent of all beef is graded as "choice." Most beef sold in butcher stores and served in all but the expensive restaurants is "commercial."

Anyway, Marshall got no reply from the Mayor. So at last, Marshall's deputy, Col. Ralph Olmstead, called up LaGuardia and said:

"We're still holding this beef for you. What about it?"

"Oh," said the Mayor, "We thought it was all choice beef. We can't use it."

Col. Olmstead tried to choke down his ire but failed.

"So," he rasped, "this beef shortage in New York is only in the Starlight Roof and the Stork Club!"

* * *

I AM TURNING this over to our does-this-have-any-significance editor. He will put it through the regular significance tests—both dry and fluid—and probably report his findings in due course.

The intelligence is this:

A woman who teaches English at the Soviet Purchasing Commission confides that orders have been given that Russian students henceforth are to be taught English with a British pronunciation, rather than an American!

* * *

SOMEHOW, I would just love to hear a Russian with a British accent. It would be fascinating to hear one exclaim:

"What ho, old chap, I bloody Dreskin't."

WHY NOT a special "Invasion medal" for every man who took part in the recent invasion of France? Above would be all right to inscribe on such an award . . . Discovering a snake in his bed, a soldier hopped out in no seconds flat before the reptile had a chance to bite him. "If that snake had bitten you," a medical officer told the soldier, "you would have been dead in 45 seconds." This did not take place in the jungles of the Southwest Pacific, but in Louisiana. The reptile was a coral snake, the deadliest snake to be found in the United States. There are lots of snakes in the jungles of the Southwest Pacific and India, but not many able to kill a man in 18 seconds.

HITLER'S PRESENTS: Nazi Heinrich Kessel was assigned to open all birthday presents for Adolf Hitler that came by mail. This year he opened a package inscribed: "To My Beloved Fuehrer—a Birthday Present." That was the end of Herr Kessel. The package exploded and blew him to pieces. Kessel was the nineteenth casualty of this kind. The first was a Nazi named Schuhmann, who was killed in opening a Hitler birthday present in 1940. On another occasion one of Der Fuehrer's birthday presents exploded in the Berlin postoffice and wrecked half the building.

PLEASE NOTE: Why is the Electoral College continued as a method of electing the President? Commenting on this antique system, John Newton Baker said: "By the Electoral College method 12 States can elect a President even if the other 36 States vote against him. They can do this, though the total popular vote be almost three to one against the winning candidate." So far three men have become President of the United States although the majority of the people voted against them. These were John Quincy Adams, Rutherford B. Hayes and Benjamin Harrison.

SIDELIGHTS: A young oldtimer is a fellow who remembers that play about firemen and fire horses titled "The Still Alarm." Those who have never seen a horsedrawn fire engine rushing to a conflagration have really missed a stirring sight. She is planning to attend the organization's next convention, which will be held in either Walla Walla, Wash., or Paw Paw, Ill.

TALKS TOO MUCH: Recently I rashly stated all a restaurant hostess needed was a slightly statuesque figure, a toothy smile and an ability to handle a menu card gracefully. I talk too much. Yesterday a hostess, after viewing me coldly, led me to a table in a corner where I sat stranded for ten minutes before getting a tumble from a waitress. Oh, well, I should not complain. I am lucky that when I started to sit down this hostess didn't pull the chair from under me. That man who said what he did about "a fool who willingly provokes a woman" really had something there.

HOLLYWOOD, July 3 — Now that the record-breaking box office figures are pouring in, it just had to be that Leo McCarey would plan a follow-up on "Going My Way."

Miss Russell

"Not a sequel," Leo was quick to explain, "let's call it a companion feature inspired by the way the American people have responded to a religious fiction story." So far, the new story has no title but it concerns three boys of different faiths, a Catholic, a Jew and a Protestant, who become buddies during the war and whose lives are closely entwined when they return to peace time homes and jobs.

Here's some data on "Going My Way:" If the Bing Crosby picture keeps on at the pace it has it will outgross any film since "Gone With the Wind."

* * *

IT'S IN THE BAG for Rosalind Russell to inherit Ruth Gordon's stage role in "Over 21."

Roz and Harry Cohn reached the agreement several days ago while other stars were still being rumored for the part. Sidney Buchman will do the producing from his own script. This is the story, as you know, of a wife who goes to live near the Army camp while her husband goes through the rigors of Officers' Training School.

* * *

ACQUANETTA HAS maneuvered herself into a spot where she won't have to contend with the terrific competition from Maria Montez at Universal. When Miss A.'s "U" contract expires July 16 she'll move to Monogram on a contract with Producer Stan Katzman, which hikes her salary to three times what she is getting now. Of course, she will cater to the sarong clientele.

* * *

SIDE-LINES: The inside on why M-G-M let Ann Richards get away after "American Romance" is that her roles would have conflicted with the things Greer Garson does . . . Bette Davis went to the bosses at Warners and told them they are missing a great bet if they don't put Lauren Bacall into the femme lead in "The Fountainhead." Miss Bacall is the Howard Hawks' discovery who co-stars with Humphrey Bogart in "To Have and to Have Not," not yet seen by movie fans. Bette thinks she is terrific. Fred Finklehoffe has been upped to a producer at M-G-M. He's Ella Logan's husband . . . Paul Meltsner, the artist, cabled Gertrude Lawrence that his portrait of her went for a small fortune at the bond rally at I. Magnin's . . . Elliott Nugent's two daughters, Lee and Barbara, make their stage debuts in summer stock in the East.

* * *

HOLLYWOOD IN SHORTS: Elsa Maxwell's party for Fred Sammis brought them out in gala summer attire in spite of the cool weather. Virginia Bruce, looking like a dream, appeared to arrive with George Sanders. Errol Flynn and Cary Grant stagged it. Loretta Young and Gene Tierney made a bouquet in a corner discussing babies. Mrs. Dick Smart lived up to her name in stunning summer black. Minna Wallis with one of the best looking men present, George Brent, who has lost pounds and pounds. Anita Colby with Bill or, the stunning Ann Warner, Clifton Webb and Otto Preminger were very much present and accounted for.

Broadway . . . By Dorothy Kilgallen

NEW ORK, July 3 -- Manhattan Glitter: Harold Lloyd, one of the screen greats, unnoticed by the Broadway crowds as he munches a hot dog at a 50th st. stand . . . Betty Grable admiring the babies in Central Park — vice versa . . . At the Copa bar — pretty blond Dolores Grey, Mary Martin's protegee, who is a leading candidate for the role of Sadie Thompson in "Rain" . . . Anna May Wong giving the Cub Room decor an Oriental touch . . . Gypsy Rose Lee and the Mike Frankovitches (Bonnie Binnie Barnes) at "The V. of the T." . . . Joyce Matthews at Leon & Eddie's looking cute as a custard pie with her pigtails, dirndl and suntanned snoot . . . Ann Sheridan "surrounded" by Steve Hannagan, Moss Hart and Morton Downey at the Colony . . . Grace Moore — the girl who proved you don't have to be built like a credenza to give out with a cadenza — looking luscious at Le Coq Rouge.

Grace Moore

* * *

ALL AROUND TOWN: Put it under the heading of coincidence, but the fact remains that the air cooling system at the Coq Rouge has broken down just twice since the hot weather set in—and both times Mae West was in the dining room when it happened! . . . Since Joan Edwards' collapse in Boston —the result of a throat hemorrhage—her managers have been battling the rumors that she had lost her voice permanently, that she was on the verge of death, and similar dire reports. Happily, it isn't so. Joan's all right.

* * *

THE OWL PATROL: Lt. Bruce Cabot at Armando's, wearing his uniform for the last time before doffing it to return to the Paramount lot . . . Flight Officer Jackie Coogan, who was The Kid before The Voice was a whisper, chinning with chums at Jack Dempsey's . . . Gracie Fields autographing the interior of a soldier's cap at Hurricane.

* * *

TIMES SQUARE NOTES: We hope it won't catch on, but Eddie Davis, the dapper dude of 52d st., has taken to buying twin ties, wearing one in the usual place and one tied around his torso in lieu of a belt. He shrieks with chic! . . . There'll be a tug-o'-war between Billy Rose and the Shuberts for Bea Lillie's service if she gets over to this side of the Atlantic, according to plan. Rose would like her for "The Seven Lively Arts"; the Shuberts say she promised to do her next show for them. It may boil down to this: whoever gets her into the country will get her name on the contract

Star Shine By Sidney Skolsky

HOLLYWOOD, July 3—It was after viewing a number of training films and after talking to numerous soldiers whose duty it is to see these films and study them that I realized the great value of these picutres.

People have come to look upon Hollywood's contribution to the war effort mainly from the angle of morale, War Bond tours and Army camp shows. But just as important, if not more so, is the fact that it has produced hundreds of excellent movies teaching millions of soldiers dull subjects which cannot be well presented any other way; then again it is a much faster method of teaching a subject. Hollywood has done much to teach the soldiers in the various camps the subject for which they were sent to those camps—how to fight the war and win it.

* * *

IN all probability, many actors believed their film careers were, shall we say, deferred when they went into the service. Actually, however, in many instances the contrary is true. They have been playing to a large and appreciative audience —their fellow men in the various branches of the service who have come to like and respect them more than ever.

It is easy to be dramatic in a tailored million-dollar Hollywood production, but the actor who can put appeal into a description of "How to Manifold Pressure in Aircraft Engines" is a true artist. And such actors as Burgess Meredith, Ronald Reagan and William Holden, to mention a few, are those who are giving performances which are the equal of anything they ever did when they were contenders for the Oscar.

* * *

ALSO, in these training films there are many soldiers who never saw a Hollywood studio but who display great acting talent and should not have much trouble getting jobs when they are permitted to take off their uniforms and don civvies again.

Although they haven't been publicized and the public doesn't see them, the training films are doing a great job and, in the lingo of Hollywood, rate an Oscar.

Boston After Dark

EXCLUSIVE: Bradley's of Palm Beach, America's most famous gambling casino, has been sold to a Boston syndicate . . . Bing Crosby's four older sons have made their debut in a Universal picture . . . Slot machines are rampant to our north . . . One alleged malefactor with a debit of $389,000 on the corporate books as owing Uncle Sam for income tax was hauled up short by Denis Delaney's boys the other day . . . Deanna Durbin matures in "Christmas Holiday," and effectively.

THE MUSIC BOX is doing more business than any cocktail lounge in town . . . The beautiful air-conditioned bistro in the Copley Square Hotel, which is operated by John Costello, is dickering for a good male quartet . . . The Lynn Logan-Bob Ripley business can't be too cold. They were week-end guests at Westchester, not too far apart . . . Tom Maren's latest worry -- as a gentleman farmer in Manchester-by-the-Sea—is the depradations of his black dobermanpinscher, which has turned into a cat-killer . . . (Shangri-la and Dinty Moore's, both making mints by the week, are helping to assuage the Maren grief) . . . Michael Redstone, boss of the Mayfair, is trying to hire Gretchen Merrill for his ice-show . . . The Hurricane, in Manhattan, has tolded for the summer, and Maestro Mickey Alpert is at liberty for the time.

* * *

BOSTON'S weather service given by the telephone company is so complete that inquirers hang up before it is finished . . . Leo Reisman took off for The Balsams in Dixville, N. H., after his Saturday night's final performance at the Statler. But he was forced to make wheel tracks for Boston after a 24-hour visit . . . Maestro Reisman would like it to be pointed out that his main activity is the band-playing chore at the Statler, and that his advisory post on The Balsams' management board is secondary . . . One hotel in the Copley sq. sector is reported to have been sold in the past week, and investment brokers say that money to buy hotels is so plentiful that it is going begging . . . The same story filters through from the West Coast, namely, that there is a stampede of cash toward the purchase of hotels and apartment houses. (And independent motion picture companies, for that matter.)

DENNIS KING, JR., son of the actor-producer, made a quick Boston trip to lend a hand in the preparation of the first commercial television show at Station WIXG, in Brookline ave. . . . Young Mr. King is on the executive staff of Columbia's "Video" (tradename for television) unit in New York

D'z. GIOVANNI lift the Statler's Terrace Room after Saturday's final performance . . . The grizzled "No. 1 Hickpocket" seems to improve with the years . . . Boston saw him first at the Ritz Roof in 1939, and Giovanni has won a booking at three other major Boston hostrees since his first success here . . . His ring tricks, in which he seems to slip a ring over a stick which is being held at each end by one of the doctor's volunteer "stooges" from the audience, continue to be the most mystifying quick trick in magic

'White Cliffs of Dover' At Loew's on Thursday

"The White Cliffs of Dover," Metro's Irene Dunne-Alan Marshall starring picture which has been described a powerful, intelligent approach to a better understanding between the English and the Yanks, will have its first local showing on Loew's twin screens Thursday.

The picture has been suggested by Alice Duer Miller's poem, "The White Cliffs." It is the saga of an American girl who went to England for a vacation in 1914, fell in love with a title, learned to love Britain and remained there to go through World War I and see the coming of the second World War.

Roddy McDowall is cast as the son of the American girl, Miss Dunne, and titled husband, Alan Marshall. Peter Lawford is the son grown to manhood. Other supporting players include Van Johnson, Frank Morgan, Gladys Cooper, Dame May Whitty, C. Aubrey Smith, John Warburton, Jill Esmond, Brenda Forbes and Norma Varden.

The picture was produced by Sidney Franklin and directed by Clarence Brown.

Paramount, Fenway, Keith Holiday Films

The holiday Paramount and Fenway bill will be topped by Warners' musical, "Shine On, Harvest Moon," in which luscious Ann Sheridan and handsome Dennis Morgan impersonate that great vaudeville team, Nora Bayes and Jack Norworth.

Companion picture on the new bill opening tomorrow will be "Candlelight in Algeria," starring James Mason and Carla Lehmann in a story of adventure and deep-dyed intrigue.

TAKE ADVANTAGE OF OUR BUDGET PLAN

Our budget plan offers you and your family an opportunity to have a summer home by the ocean at Seabrook Beach. NOW for a down payment as little as $45.00 and monthly payments of $10.00 you can choose and own your cottage site and enjoy full beach privileges NOW. You owe it to yourself and family to see Seabrook Beach today. If you have shopped around you must be convinced by this time that desirable ocean-front property is hard to find at any reasonable price. In a short time, through scarcity and demand, prices will be prohibitive to the average family.

YOUR "INDEPENDENCE" ASSURED FOR ALL THE SUMMERS AHEAD

Seabrook Beach today is fast growing as an exclusive summer colony. They come, they see—and they buy at this private beach resort where privacy and safety for your family is assured. Opened only two short weeks ago, already two new streets have been constructed to take care of the many families who want to own their own summer home here—not just for this summer, but for all the summers ahead. Come out today and see why this ocean-front spot has already appealed to so many. You, too, will be delighted with its beautiful stretch of beach exclusive for you and your family. Don't miss this opportunity—nothing like it will ever be available again.

$25,000 Yankee Tops Holiday Card

By JACK CONWAY

THE $25,000 Yankee Handicap will give a decided touch of class to the holiday card at Suffolk Downs. The race will be run over a distance of one mile and three-sixteenths and it will bring together some of the best three-year-olds in the East. Valdina Lamar, who has made such a brilliant New England record, will be among the select field of starters.

It will be the first time the Yankee Handicap has had a purse of $25,000. It was formerly a $15,000 race.

Chas. McLennan

The event was not held last year due to the numerous war restrictions, and when the race was restored this year it was decided to lift its value to $25,000.

Owners of expensive horse flesh will receive ample opportunities to get even on their investments during the remainder of the Suffolk Downs meeting. In addition to the $25,000 Yankee Handicap, the program of races call for the $10,000 Miles Standish Stakes for two-year-old colts and geldings on Saturday, the $10,000 added Hannah Dustin Handicap for fillies and mares three-years-old and upwards on July 15, the classic $50,000 Massachusetts Handicap on July 19 for three-year-olds and upwards and the $25,000 added Mayflower stakes on July 22 which will be for two-year-olds.

This represents $120,000 in purses which compares favorably with the purse offerings of tracks doing about the same amount of business.

With so many major stake races throughout the country, horsemen are able to shop around and find what they consider the best spots for their thoroughbreds. All of the owners have a chance to win rich purses.

RACING Secretary Charley McLennan is an expert in alloting weight, and he will strive to bring the horses that are entered in handicaps on as near even terms as possible. Charley will be at Garden State tomorrow, but before leaving here he decided on the weights for his major races.

It is expected that the mutuel handle will top $1,500,000 tomorrow if the weather is not too warm. On exceptionally hot days, many persons prefer the seashore to the race track.

The $25,000 Yankee Handicap will be a fine attraction. It is stake races like this that have done so much for racing. The public knows that the owners of thoroughbreds competing in a $25,000 race are going everything possible to gain a victory. Apart from the money involved there is special satisfaction in winning a race of this importance.

★ ★ ★

Mass. Handicap

CHARLEY McLENNAN told me that he will have an unusually strong field in the $50,000 Massachusetts Handicap on July 19. It is believed that either Devil Diver of Four Freedoms will be among the starters. Over the years the Massachusetts Handicap has been one of the finest races staged in New England. It has always had a good field, while the competition has been excellent.

The race will come in the final week of the meeting. Once Suffolk Downs closes the racing picture will shift to Rockingham Park where Lou Smith will stage a three week summer meeting. Then the horses go back to Narragansett Park and from there to Rockingham Park for the close of the New England racing season.

Red Sox Near A. L. Peak

Playing before capacity crowd of 33,352, with 5000 keenly disappointed fans turned away, the Red Sox once more demonstrated yesterday that they were very much in the fight for the American League pennant.

When they turned back the St. Louis Browns twice they reduced the latter's lead to 1½ games which might be erased within the next two days. The Red Sox have won 19 of their last 22 games at home which is quite an achievement.

Today Joe Cronin and his men lay off but return to the wars tomorrow afternoon at Fenway Park in a double-header with the tough Detroit Tigers. The Tigers play singletons Wednesday and Thursday. Then Cleveland comes in for the week-end offerings.

So tremendous was the enthusiasm of the Fens fans yesterday that they were flocking to buy seats for tomorrow's bargain bill before the Sunday card had been completed.

The clutch hitting of the Red Sox players has been one of the redeeming features of their recent work. Where for a spell they were leaving runners stranded on the bases, now the Sox are getting them over the platter.

The grand hitting of Pete Fox, Lou Finney, Bobby Doerr, Bob Johnson and Hal Wagner has combined to keep the Sox very hot. Fox has hit safely in 15 straight games.

Finney's remarkable clutch work yesterday is the talk of New England baseball. He took over Joe Cronin's first base duties when Joe lost an argument with Umpire Hal Weafer and was banished. Going in cold the alert Alabama boy helped to tie up the second game in the ninth and then to win it in the 11th with a single. Doerr came through with his seventh homer of the year.

Hughson Betters Pace Og Great '42 Season

Tex Hughson of the Boston Red Sox is travelling at a faster pace than he did in his record-breaking year of 1942 when he won 22 and lost six to lead American League pitchers.

The 6-3 right-handed ace won his 12th victory yesterday, more than any American League hurler blanking the league leading Browns with six hits to give the Red Sox a 1-0 triumph in the opener of a Fenway twin bill.

SOX TAKE NIGHTCAP

The Sox also won the nightcap, 3-2, in 11 innings to climb to within a game and a half of first place. The double defeat was the Browns' fourth loss in six games since they started their Eastern swing last Thursday.

JUG McSPADEN

Hughson, beaten only three times, has pitched 126 innings and has gone the route 12 times in 15 starts. His 62 strikeouts are at a better pace than his 113 whiffs which led the loop in '42. A sore arm hampered him last year, when he won 12 and lost 15.

The Cardinals, leaders in the N. L., won two Sunday games from Brooklyn to extend the Dodgers losing streak to six straight.

A crowd of 35,984 saw the Chicago White Sox and the New York Yankees divide their twin-bill. The White Sox won the first 7-3. The finale was a 7-6 Yankee victory.

Cleveland won two from Washington, 4-3 in 10 innings, and 6-3.

Johnny Allen pitched a three-hitter for the first Giant shutout of the season, 3-0, as New York and Cincinnati split.

Detroit and Philadelphia split.

The Chicago Cubs and Phillies also got an even break in their two games.

Nate Andrews pitched the Braves to a 4-1 victory over Pittsburgh in the first game, but the second was halted by Pennsylvania's 6:50 curfew after eight innings, with the score tied at 5-5.

Jug, Hogan Tilt In Title Playoff

CHICAGO, July 3 (AP)—Lt. Ben Hogan, determined to make a successful comeback after a recess of almost two years, and Jug McSpaden, the leading money winner of the season, met today in an 18-hole playoff for the Chicago victory national golf championship.

In one of the most amazing finishes in golf history, McSpaden yesterday overcame a five-stroke deficit on the last nine holes by shooting five birdies to tie Hogan at the end of the regular 72-hole tournament with 273—11 strokes under par.

McSpaden, whose domination of the winter circuit has given him $15,100 in winnings, is regarded as one of the greatest pressure golfers in the business. Last summer he beat Buck White in a playoff for the Tam O'Shanter title, and last winter he defeated Byron Nelson in a playoff for the Phoenix open crown.

McSpaden needed to shoot a 31, 5 under par, on the difficult last nine to match Hogan's 273 yesterday.

But Jug cut loose. He planted his tee shot four feet from the pin on No. 10 for a deuce. He reached the long 14th and 15th holes in two shots for easy birdie 4's. He stuck his tee shot three feet from the cup for another deuce on the 17th.

Then he needed a birdie 3 on the 385-yard 18th for a tie. He spanked a 258-yard drive down the middle. But his second shot scuffed the green 40 feet short of the cup.

"Guess I'm away," he told his partner. "Caddy, please hold the pin—loose—because I might sink this one."

He tapped the ball, it caught the roll and trickled in as a crowd of 10,000 whooped. The putt gave him a 34-31—65 for the round.

In third place with 276 was Nelson, followed at 280 by Johnny Revolta and Sam Byrd. Chuck Kocsis of Detroit had a six-stroke margin over his nearest rivals for amateur honors by posting a 282.

Tobin Forgotten By Stars' Pickers

By JACK HAND

Jim "No Hits, No Nothin' " Tobin today qualified as the forgotten man of 1944 as the National League announced its 25-man All Star team to play the pick of the American in Pittsburgh's Forbes Field on the night of July 11 but failed to name the veteran Boston knuckle-baller who pitched two no-hit games.

Six members of the league-leading St. Louis Cardinals were selected by the eight National managers who overlooked Tobin along with such brilliant performers as Mort Cooper and Ray Sanders of the Cards, Tommy Holmes of the Braves, Phil Weintraub and Bill Voiselle of the Giants and Frenchy Bordagaray of the Dodgers.

Cincinnati placed four men on the squad that Billy Southworth as pennant-winning manager will boss. Pittsburgh, Chicago, Boston and Brooklyn each grabbed three spots, New York two and the Phillies only one.

Fourteen members of the 1943 club that bowed to the Yank American stars, 5-3, in Philadelphia, were picked.

THEY DID PICK JAVERY

With Martin Marion of the Cards and Eddie Miller of the Reds on the list, Southworth will have no shortstop worries and he has Whitey Kurowski of his own club and Bob Elliott of the Pirates for third base. Frank McCormick of the Reds, named for the seventh time, and Phil Cavarretta of the Cubs, are his first sackers with Rookie Don Johnson of the Cubs and Connie Ryan of the Braves, both making their All-Star bows, available for the keystone spot.

George Munger of the Cards who has set a surprising pitching pace for the circuit during early season was voted to the Star club although he is slated to be inducted into the service in St. Louis the day of the game. It was the first time for Munger but the sixth pick for Bucky Walters of the Reds who has missed only 1938 and 1943.

Rip Sewell of the Pirates, Max Lanier of the Cards and Al Javery of the Braves were selected for second-time duty, Sewell and Lanier for early winning jobs and Javery for consistently good but "tough luck" hurling. Ken Raffensberger of the Phils and Nate Andrews of the Braves round out the mound staff.

Walter Cooper of the Cards, Mickey Owen of the Dodgers, with .500 All-Star hitting averages, will be joined by Cincinnati's Ray Mueller, a sturdy "iron man," in the catching department.

Dixie Walker of the Dodgers and Stan Musial of the Cards, who are engaged in a real scrap for the hitting crown, drew two of the seven outfield spots.

Mel Ott of the Giants who missed only 1933, the first year, will become the real veteran of the game by playing for the 12th time and teammate, Joe Medwick, will play his 10th for the National. Bill Nicholson of the Cubs, Augie Galan of the Dodgers and Vince DiMaggio of the Pirates, who holds the classic's only 1.000 batting average on his three for three a year ago.

Tilden Still Classy at 52

NEW YORK (AP)—Bill Tilden, gaunt and gray, returned to Forest Hills center court and showed that neither the spirit nor the flesh was weak.

The 52-year-old all-time national and world tennis champion lost to Pvt. Frank Kovacs, 6—4, 6—4, in the singles feature of a Red Cross exhibition tourney but not before Tilden punched over 15 service aces—10 in four consecutive games. Kovacs had eight.

About an hour later Tilden returned to the court with his protege of two decades ago, Vinnie Richards, and brought cheers from the 5000 spectators while losing to Welby Van Horn and Kovacs, 2—6, 6—3, 7—5.

McCosky Goes On RBI Rampage

Barney McCosky, former Detroit outfielder, established a new record in one of the service leagues in operation on the Hawaiian Islands by driving home seven runs in his Navy club's 13 to 4 victory in a recent game. His swatfest included two home runs, one with the sacks loaded; a double and triple.

In the same league, Johnny Mize and Pee Wee Reese of the Giants and Dodgers, respectively, are setting the batting pace in the first seven games, tied at .428. Mize is tied with George Dickey of the White Sox in home runs, with four apiece.

Bagby Shoves Off

Jim Bagby, former pitcher of the Cleveland Indians has completed eight weeks of Merchant Marine training and, after a leave at his home in Atlanta, Ga., reports this week to New Orleans, La., to ship out. He is a seaman.

Three Sox Stars On 'All' Team

CHICAGO, July 3 (AP)—Reflecting its current stem-to-stern pennant struggle, the American League yesterday played the field in nominating its 25 representatives for the 12th annual major league All-Star game at Pittsburgh, July 11.

Although all three still are down in the second division, Detroit, Cleveland and Washington led the all-star balloting by the junior circuit's eight pilots with four representatives each, League Pres. William Harridge announced.

Pace-setting St. Louis, New York and Boston placed three players apiece, and Chicago and Philadelphia landed two each on the American League squad, entrusted for the seventh time to Manager McCarthy of the Yankees.

The holdovers include five of last year's starters—Emil (Dutch) Leonard of Washington, 1943 winning pitcher; Outfielder George Case of Washington; Third Baseman Kenny Keltner of Cleveland; Shortstop Vernon Stephens of St. Louis, and Second Baseman Bobby Doerr of Boston. Doerr, named to the last three all-star squads, blasted a three-run homer in the second inning of last year's game at Philadelphia to seal the fate of the National Leaguers.

Player selections by clubs:

DETROIT—Pitchers Harold Newhouser and Paul Trout, Third Baseman Michael (Pinky) Higgins and First Baseman Rudy York.

CLEVELAND—Shortstop Lou Boudreau, Outfielders Roy Cullenbine and Oris Hockett and Third Baseman Ken Keltner.

WASHINGTON—Outfielders George Case and Stanley Spence, Catcher Richard Ferrell and Pitcher Emil Leonard.

NEW YORK—Pitchers Henry Borowy and Joseph Page and Catcher Ralston (Rollie) Hemsley.

BOSTON—Second Baseman Robert Doerr, Pitcher, Pitcher Cecil Hughson and Outfielder Robert Johnson.

ST. LOUIS—First Baseman George McQuinn, Pitcher Robert Muncrief and Shortstop Vernon Stephens.

CHICAGO—Pitcher Orval Grove and Outfielder Thurman Tucker.

PHILADELPHIA—Catcher Frank Hayes and Pitcher Lopin Newsom.

COACHES—Joe Cronin of Red Sox, and Art Fletcher of Yankees.

Sunday's Stars

JOHNNY HOPP and TED WILKS, Cardinals—Hopp singled with the bases full and two out to drive in the winning run in the 14th inning of the opener; Wilks let the Dodgers down with six hits to give Cards sweep of twin bill.

JIM KONSTANTY, Reds, and JOHN ALLEN, Giants—Rookie Konstanty hurled seven-hitter to win third straight in opener; Allen hurled first Giant shutout in nightcap.

LOU BOUDREAU and KE KELTNER, Indians—Boudreau began 10th inning of opener with double and scored winning run on Keltner's single; Keltner added four hits in nightcap to pace Tribe to double win over Senators.

GORDON WALTZBERGER, White Sox, and BUD METHENY, Yankees—Waltzberger drove in winning runs in 10th of opener besides holding Yankees in check last two innings to gain eighth victory; Metheny raced ohme from second with winning run in nightcap on Catcher Vince Castino's wild throw.

Yachting Picks Up, Restrictions Relax

By JOHN AHERN

Little by little people are beginning to realize that restrictions have been relaxed and free air has never been rationed so that the racing fleets along the North and South Shores and Boston Harbor show some resemblance to the pre-war flotillas that turned out for every club race and interclub, fair weather and foul.

No better proof of this than at Marblehead where 54 craft in six classes turned out to try their luck in the fickle breezes of last Saturday. Fifty-four is a far cry from the 154 that regularly crossed the line in the Eastern and Corinthian Saturday regattas but it is far ahead of the number that turned out on the same day a year ago.

The most encouraging sign of all is the return of some of the larger classes such as the Thirties and Internationals. Neither has come close to its peacetime complement but both classes are averaging seven starters and should increase greatly by Race Week. The Q's have departed to other ports—rumor has five of them at South Boston—but the Eight-Meter boats are very much in evidence sailing around out in the bay and with a little urging they could be brought back to competition.

Two weeks ago a squadron of 52 was on hand for the Merrymount interclub and that was surprisingly high for Quincy bay, especially, after last year's poor showing. This fleet would be greatly enlarged if some of the Indians—at one time the largest flotilla in Massachusetts bay—would get off their moorings and get into the thick of it again.

HUSTLERS POPULAR BOAT

There are two reasons for the re-birth of the game in Quincy; the first being the junior club sponsored by Squantum and the second, the Hustler class.

Junior clubs speak for themselves, witness the Pleon and the Seawanaka-Corinthian; but the Hustlers are a different story. The Indians were never the easiest boat built to handle and older members were looking for a boat that could race and still serve as an ideal family party boat. The Hustler filled the bill and there are several of that class in Squantum and Winthrop.

2 School Stars Signed by Sox

The Red Sox announced today the signing of two 17-year-old schoolboy right-handed pitching stars for assignment to minor leagues for seasoning.

One of the boys, John J. Dineen, who just graduated from Cathedral High School in Springfield, was assigned to Roanoke, Va. a Class B team. He pitched for the Sox last week in an exhibition game at Camp Thomas, R. I., allowing the opposition only four hits and winning his game.

The other, William Wesley Hays of Newton, June graduate of Newton High School, was signed to a Scranton, Pa., Class A team contract, but was optioned immediately to Middletown, a Class D team in the Ohio State League.

Attractive Entry List In City Track Games

Decorated with an adequate entry list despite wartime conditions, the annual City of Boston track meet will be held at Franklin Field the holiday morning tomorrow, first event being listed for 10 o'clock.

Sanctioned by the NEAAAU, eight handicap events are listed for men, 100, 440, 880, mile, three-mile, broad jump, high jump, and 16-pound shot put, plus a service men's scratch sprint. There will also be four events for women.

Edmund Petorella, R. I. State College and New England intercollegiate hurdle champion, will try his hand at 100 yards, along with Ray Southwick, USNR, Tufts College, a former Northeastern University star. Both are also entered in the 440-yard run.

Two schoolboy champions will be seen in action. Jim Young, state cross-country champion from Newton High, is entered in three events, half-mile, mile and three-mile, while Dick Barwise of Melrose High, state meet Class B high jump titleholder, is in his specialty.

Elihu Yorshis, promising sprinter from Newton High, is entered in both 100 and 440, while Elliot Rice of Northeastern will take his pick of half-mile, mile and three-mile runs.

The Seabees are sending up quite a contingent, H. Dillard, 100, 440; G. E. Center, 100; C. C. Vose, 440; V. Enna, half-mile and mile; R. P. Geisner, half-mile; William Wandry, mile and shot put; Leo Eller, broad jump and high jump

Gala Time at Point Shirley

An extensive list of sports events for boys and girls following a horrible parade will feature the annual Fourth of July celebration at Point Shirley, Winthrop, tomorrow morning.

Ray Graham is chairman of the sports committee and announces a heavy entry list in the various events. Arthur W. Penny is general chairman of the committee.

This celebration is being sponsored by the Point Shirley Air Raid Protection Associates, whose response during the last air raid alert was judged by the State Safety Committee as the best in the entire Commonwealth.

Following the sports events a doll carriage parade will be held. Tonight the A. R. P. Associates stage their free dance at the Winthrop Yacht Club.

The celebration this year is on a larger scale than ever before attempted and needs only the assurance of good weather for its success.

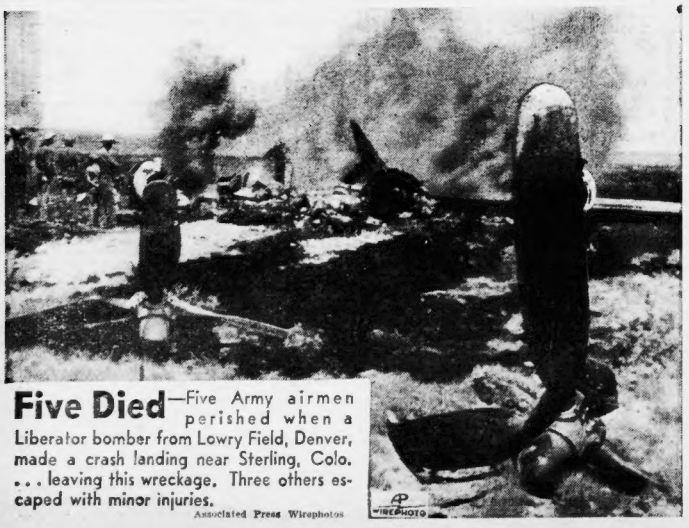
On Way Out

Some forming a long line, others relaxing, these soldiers are Germans—all captives—and represent some of the thousands captured at Cherbourg. Gathered in a field they're awaiting transit over the channel

Robot Ramp

Two American soldiers (right) inspect a ramp designed to toss the Nazis' robot bombs against England. Firing installations and control mechanisms had not been fitted when Yanks captured the ramp near Delasse, France.



Five Died—Five Army airmen perished when a Liberator bomber from Lowry Field, Denver, made a crash landing near Sterling, Colo. . . . leaving this wreckage. Three others escaped with minor injuries.

Youngster—This Nazi youth, holding his hands over his head during an inspection of prisoners at Cherbourg, is a finished product of Nazi schooling and ideology. Well taught in the art and science of war, he's only 16 years old.
